FROM

A. A. ROBERTS, ESQUIRE, C B.,

JUDICIAL COMMISSIONER, PUNJAB.

To

T. H. THORNTON, ESQUIRE,

SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT, PUNJAB.

Dated LAHORE, 17*th April* 1865.

SIR,

Judicial. CRIMINAL.

I have the honor to submit the usual Reports and Statements connected with the administration of Criminal Justice during the year 1864, and to offer the following observations thereon.

Number of cases reported.

2. The number of cases reported during the year 1864, amounted to 53,053, being an increase of 9,735 on the year 1863. The largest number occurred in the Lahore, Amritsur, Kangra, Delhi, Peshawur, Rawul Pindi and Goojranwalla Districts. The fewest in Simla, Kohat, Mozuffargarh, and Sirsa.

Increase of Bailable Cases.

3. The increase is observable in both Non-Bailable and Bailable offences; but to a larger extent in the latter, especially in the Districts of Shahpur and Goojrat: this it is said has arisen not from any real increase of offences, but from a more correct system of recording them, as the cases occurring under certain chapters of the Criminal Procedure Code were not taken into account in 1863. Increase is also shown in Lahore, Hazara, Goorgaon, Jhelam and other Districts, attributable probably in a great measure to the same cause. In Kangra where the increase is greatest, it has resulted from the inclusion this year for the first time, of 970 cases under the "Forest Laws," which the Deputy Commissioner states were formerly shown in the Revenue returns. Then prosecutions under the Stamp Act have increased generally. Still no small proportion of the very large and general increase of 6,237 bailable cases may be put down to the fact, that the public are availing themselves more freely of the exemption of petitions of complaints from Stamp duty.

Non-Bailable offences.

4. The largest number of Non-Bailable offences is shown in Lahore (1,724); Delhi (1,659); Amritsur, (1391); Peshawur, (1,038); and Amballa, (1,027). The largest increase is in the Districts of Bunnu, (700); Lahore, (600); Delhi, Goojranwalla, Ferozepur and others. In the Sialkot District alone has there been a decrease in both Non-Bailable and Bailable offences, while in the following a decrease is shown in only the former:—Goordaspur, Sirsa, Rawul Pindi, Shapore, Jallandar, Kohat, and Hissar.

5. The offences in which increase and decrease to any extent is observable, are Theft and House-breaking. Thus in Bunnu the cases of theft reported in 1863 amounted to 193, those in 1864 to 676:—house-breaking in 1863, 23, in 1864, 129 cases. In Delhi, house-breaking increased from 163 to 335 cases; in Goorgaon, theft from 359 to 510; in Rohtuck both increased from 51, and 218, to 126 and 425 respectively; and in Lahore from 213 and 752, to 452 and 1,090 respectively. On the other hand, theft and house-breaking have decreased in Goordaspur from 429 and 284 in 1863, to 257 and 214 in 1864, respectively. In Rawul Pindi from 376 and 267 in 1863, to 301 and 243 in 1864 respectively. In Kohat, theft from 280 to 125. And in Shahpur from 443 to 321. The Deputy Commissioner of Bunnu states that the increase in his District is more nominal than real, and is attributable entirely to the more careful registration of crime by the Police Assistant. Probably the increase or decrease generally is owing to greater or less care in registering offences. The matter appertains rather to the Police Department, and will doubtless be fully entered on by the Inspector General of Police in his Report.

Cases brought to trial

6. The number of cases brought to trial has increased in proportion to the number reported. The total number of cases for trial was 42,359, or 8,321 more than in the previous year. There was a considerable increase—1994—of Non-Bailable cases for trial in Kohat, Jallandar, Shahpur, Sirsa, Goordaspur, Sealkote and Rawul Pindi, where the difference between the number reported and brought to trial is very small. But in the following Districts, though more Non-Bailable cases were reported, yet fewer were brought to trial than in 1863, viz:—Amritsur, Kurnal, Rohtuck, and Kangra. In the following Districts the number brought to trial, though larger than in 1863, was not commensurate with the increase in the number of cases reported :—Bunnu, Lahore, Delhi, Goorgaon and Hoshiarpur.

Disposal of cases.

7. Out of 42,359 cases, involving 81,344 persons, all but 275 cases and 510 persons were disposed of.

The greatest amount of business was disposed of in the following Districts:—

		Cases.	Persons.
Lahore,	..	3,178	5,356
Umritsur,	...	3,163	6,154
Kangra,	...	3,026	4,983
Peshawur,	...	2,216	4,624
Rawul Pindi,	...	1,845	3,980
Amballa,	...	1,779	2,734
Goojranwalla,	...	1,605	2,905
Delhi,	..	1,563	2,716

Pending cases.

8. The largest number of pending cases was in Kangra, 42; Gojranwalla, 24; Peshawur, 24; Jhung, 19; Sealkot, 18; and Bannu, 12. The oldest cases pending are dated 23rd April and 4th July 1864, in Goordaspur and Sirsa respectively. In the first, some political inquiries that are being made in the case, are delaying its disposal; and in the second, the Commissioner acknowledges there is no good reason for the delay, and promises to see to its speedy disposal. It is a case of prosecution of land-owners under the Track law.

Duration.

9. The general average duration is shown as 5 days for trials, and 10 days for inquiries, but these results or not to be relied on relatively to one another, as it appears from the reports that there is a diversity of practice in distinguishing between inquiries and trials, and this is but too plain from the returns furnished, in which, some districts show no inquiries at all, as Bunnu and Goorgaon, and others show an excessive number, as Jhelam, Delhi, and Dera Ghazi Khan. Repeated instructions have been issued on the subject, but as yet some of our Magistrates fail to see the difference laid down in the Code of Procedure, between an inquiry and a trial. In any case the average duration is not great.

Convictions.

10. Of the persons brought to trial, 49,850, or 61 per cent were convicted, to 64 per cent. in 1863; and 30,077 were acquitted and discharged, or 36 per cent to 34 in 1863. The falling off is observable chiefly in bailable cases. The percentage of convictions in the following Districts was high :—Goorgaon 74 per cent; Jhang 73 per cent; Mozuffergurh 72; Googaira 70; Lahore 70; Amritsur 69; Rohtuck 68; Hoshiarpur and Bunnoo 67; and Jhilum 65 per cent: but the reverse in the following:—Goordaspur 48 per cent; Goojranwala, Goojerat and Dera Ismael Khan 48 per cent; Dera Gazi Khan 49; and Kurnal 52 per cent.

11. Witnesses have been detained rather long in Shahpur, Lahore, Loodiana, Jallandar, Peshawur and Kohat; but on the whole the statement is satisfactory, as out of 1,11,134 witnesses, the great majority, at least 93 per cent, were discharged in one day. Not a single witness is shown to have remained undischarged at the close of the year.

Witnesses.

12. The amount of work disposed of by Magistrates of Districts under the enhanced powers conferred by Act XV of 1862, was 1,100 cases, to which extent the Sessions Courts were relieved. The largest number were disposed of by the following Magistrates of Districts:—

Act XV of 1862.

Amritsur,	...	..	...	147
Hoshiarpur,	...	...	...	71
Jallandar,	...	...	...	64
Gujranwalla,	...	...	...	56
Gujrat,	...	...	...	51
Lahore,	...	...	...	44

13. The number of persons tried by Sessions Judges amounted to 585 or 4 less than in 1863: the largest numbers were in the Divisions of Rawul Pindi (100): Derajat (100): Peshawur (89): Mooltan (77) and Jallandar (75.) The decrease in the number in the Lahore and Jallandar Divisions, and in the Ferozepore District, especially, falling from 22 to 1—and the increase in the number in Goojranwalla from 7 to 19—are remarkable. There was a decrease in the Amballa and Delhi Divisions also.

Sessions Courts.

14. These trials resulted in the conviction of 333, and acquittal of 192, persons. Of the former, 60 were sentenced to suffer death, and referred to this Court. The large number of 73 remained under trial at the close of the year, but almost entirely in the Courts of Sessions Judges of Peshawur, 19; Rawul Pindi, 10; Derajat, 12; and Delhi 15. Assessors are invariably employed. The majority of the Commissioners bear testimony to their intelligence and usefulness. Only in 29 out of 292 cases, did the Judges differ in opinion with the majority of the Assessors.

Result of Sessions Trials.

15. Of the cases referred to this Court the sentences passed on 31 persons were confirmed, and on 16 modified; 10 cases were returned, and 4 remained for disposal at the close of the year.

Cases referred to Judicial Commissioner.

16. One man was implicated in three out of the 4 cases, which had to be referred back to the Sessions Judge, but have since been disposed of.

Appeals to Magistrates

17 The appeals to Magistrates numbered 826, or 124 more than in 1863 This was to be expected with the increase of cases disposed of, 423 or 51 per cent were confirmed, 128 or 16 per cent were rejected, and 32 per cent were reversed, modified, or returned Fewer cases were returned and more reversed and modified than in 1863 Only one appeal remained pending at the close of the year

Appeals to Sessions Judges

18 The appeals to Commissioners amounted to 2,906, or 236 more than in 1863, of which 1,691 or 57 per cent were confirmed, 423 or 15 per cent were rejected, and 28 per cent were reversed, modified, or returned As in the appeals to Magistrates, so here also, there is a decrease in the number of cases returned for re investigation 141 cases remained pending, chiefly in the Amballa, Rawul Pindi, Peshawur, and Lahore Divisions

Appeals to Judicial Commissioner

19 The appeals to this Court numbered 392, or 12 more than in 1863 Of these 332 or 84 per cent were rejected, but though these cases could not be legally entertained in appeal, a considerable portion of them were called for on the Revision side according to the practice of this Court, and fully gone into Of the remainder, the orders in 31 cases were confirmed, in 11 modified, and in 7 reversed—11 remained pending

Revision work of Judicial Commissioner

20 Besides the appeals and the cases referred by Sessions Judges, this Court has passed under reveiw 167 cases, either submitted by Commissioners themselves or called for by this Court In 85 of these cases the orders were modified, and in 50 reversed—5 cases were returned for re investigation

Punishments

21 Of the total number of persons (49,850), convicted in the District Courts —

33,484 or 67 per cent were fined only
2,960 or 6 per cent were sentenced to imprisonment only
1,301 or 2 per cent to whipping only
7,748 or 15 per cent to combined punishment
4,205 or 10 per cent to furnish security, &c
97 persons were sentenced to Transportation

Fines

22 The total amount of Fines was Rs 5,52,736, or Rs 93,218 more than in the previous year The chief increase was in the Amballa District, in which the fines increased from Rupees 32,076 to

Rupees 63,969 The average amount of each fine increased from Rupees 11 (not 8 as erroneously stated in the Report of 1863) to Rupees 13, which is very high. The average in the Amballa District was as high as 85 Rupees in each case This was owing to some very excessive fines amounting to about 40,000 Rupees in a case of counterfeiting coin, in which the order of the Magistrate was modified by this Court The fines were also very heavy in the Lahore District Of the total amount of fines imposed during the year (Rupees 5,52,736), only 53 per cent have been realized I agree with what Mr Brandreth stated in the report of last year, that at least 75 per cent ought to be recovered in each District, and that where this is not the case, there is ground for concluding that fines have been inflicted without judgment and discrimination. The only District that came up to this standard was Jallandar, in which 75 per cent was realized

23. The total amount of fines realized was Rupees 2,95,156, of which Rupees 24,561 were paid in compensation.

24 Of the fines imposed by Sessions Judges amounting to Rs 20,744, a much larger amount, about one half, had been ordered as compensation This was owing to an order of the Commissioner of Multan awarding Rs 10,000 to the mother of a girl, who was supposed to have been murdered The order was not in consonance with the Law, and had to be reversed.

Whipping

25 Of the total number of persons (10,805 adults, 718 juveniles, total 11,523) convicted of offences for which they were liable to whipping, only 2,808 or 24 per cent were sentenced to whipping. Of these 328 were juveniles. 1,396 persons were sentenced to whipping alone, and the remainder to whipping in addition to other punishments. The former number is a large increase on 1863, and is likely to increase under Act VI of 1864, and the latter to decrease, as under it whipping in addition can only be given in cases of 2nd convictions, which are about 2 per cent of the total convictions for crimes punishable with whipping The reason for the proportions in the year under report being what they are, is, that the Act was in operation only about half the year, and that many of the sentences to whipping in addition on 1st conviction, were passed under the old Law Some few were passed by mistake under Act VI, but these sentences have been revised by this Court.

26. Some officers report that the Act has been too short a time in operation for them to judge Others observe that the operation of the Act is not likely to affect the criminal statistics of this Province much, since it is not a new measure, but a modification of a Law already for some years in existence and operation, and than which it is less severe His Honor the late Lieutenant Governor observed in the report of last year, that the punishment of whipping is specially adapted to the case of juvenile offenders, who may be thereby saved from the contamination of a jail, but it will be seen that more than one-half of the juvenile offenders who are convicted, are sent to jail instead of being whipped. as regard adults, the proportion of those who are not whipped to the total number convicted of crimes punishable with whipping is still greater, as will be seen by the following statement —

Largest number whipped in
Shahpur,	...	...	86 or 42	Per cent.
Simla,	..	...	31 or 36	"
Gurgaon,	...	...	101 or 35	"
Jhang,	...	...	95 or 35	"
Jallandar,	...	...	84 or 33	"
Delhi,	...	...	175 or 32	"
Gugaira,	...	...	* 157 or 30	"
Fewest number whipped in.
Mooltan,	•	...	14 or 4	Per cent
Karnal,	...	...	97 or 7	"
Loodiana,	...	...	43 or 17	"
Sirsa,	...	...	32 or 19	"
Goojranwala,	...	...	101 or 23	"
Rohtuck,	...	...	42 or 25	"

27 I should be glad to see the Law more uniformly administered. In the District of Multan it has been almost entirely neglected Criminals who might and ought to have been whipped, have been thrust into over crowded jails, where instead of being reformed they are liable to become more hardened and demoralized; besides running the risk of losing health, if not life. I am convinced that for all those offences for which whipping is authorized, it is a more appropriate, efficacious, and humane mode of punishment than imprisonment.

Security for good behaviour

28. The number of persons sentenced to imprisonment in default of security for good behaviour amounts to 2,089, or 4 per cent of the total number convicted. The number last year was

1,727. In the Kangra District not a single person was required to give security. In Simla, Multan, and Mozuffergurh only eight persons in each District were called upon to furnish security for good conduct. The greatest activity in this respect was shown in the following Districts:—

Lahore, ...	229	persons.
Peshawur, ...	155	„
Shahpur, ...	145	„
Gujerat, ...	156	„

29. Some irregularities of Procedure in these cases, both by Sessions Judges and Magistrates, have been noticed by this Court and corrected, such as requiring security in addition to sentencing on conviction to the prescribed punishments; or requiring security in the same case after acquitting of the charge.

Operation of Arms Act.

30. The number of licences to manufacture Gunpowder has been restricted to one in each District, except in particular cases, and a period has been fixed during which licences are to continue in force without being renewed, vizt. 3 years. The number of licences granted for carrying arms has been reduced in the Hazara, Shahpur, Kangra, and Loodiana Districts; but is still large. In the other Districts the number has been increased in order to afford the people the means for destroying wild beasts. The number of prosecutions for breaches of the Arms Act continues to increase.

31. A large number of weapons were seized and confiscated, though less than last year. The largest number (165) was seized in the Amballa District. The Deputy Commissioner, Amballa expresses the opinion, that there are many pieces of cannon concealed in his District. One was unearthed near the fort of Allawar, having been kept concealed by the widow of the late Sirdar, who was fined rupees 1,000.

Punishment of Government Officials.

32. The aggregate amount of fines on Government officials is not excessive, being Rupees 1,039, or 900 Rs. less than in 1863. In certain individual cases, however, the amounts imposed appear rather heavy, as the fine of Rs. 115 on the Jailor of Amballa, and the fines in Rawul Pindi, Multan, and Peshawur Divisions on Departmental Clerks, averaging about 5 Rupees each.

Destruction of wild beasts.

33. The number of wild beasts destroyed in 1864 is 4,752, being an increase of more than 1,500 above that in 1863. The most were destroyed in the Lahore Division (1475); the fewest, strange to say, in the adjoining one of Amritsur, (85). The amount of rewards paid away exceeds by 7,000 the amount paid in 1863. The amount of reward in each case has been increased during the year, and this will no doubt give an impetus to the future exertions of the people.

34. The number of persons killed has increased during the year from 89 to 100; of whom 50, viz. 22 boys and 28 girls are reported in the Amballa district alone. In Kurnaul, 19 children were said to have been killed. Happily the returns from the majority of districts are in this respect blank.

Disputes relating to land.

35. A few more cases were instituted than in the previous year; but they do not call for special notice.

Female Infanticide.

36. On the representations of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner of Jallandar, the Government called upon all Commissioners to hold Durbars, with a view to impressing upon the people the great importance of entirely putting a stop to the practice of Female Infanticide, which there is reason to suppose still prevails among the Hindoos generally. As bearing closely upon the subject, I may mention that a very important and effective meeting was held at Delhi in May 1864, under the auspices of Colonel Hamilton, the Commissioner, and Mr. T. H. Thornton, the Deputy Commissioner, for the purpose of inducing the people to effect a reduction in the present extravagant expenditure on marriages. It is reported by the Commissioner, that this movement of the citizens of Delhi had attracted the attention of the people of many of the chief cities and towns in the North Western Provinces, the Punjab, and the neighbouring States; and that encouragement and opportunity alone were required to enable the citizens of those places to follow the example set them by Delhi. It behoves the local authorities to afford the desired opportunity, and to guide and encourage the movement, as has from time to time been done so judiciously in the Punjab, in the North Western Provinces, and in Rajpootana, and elsewhere, during the last 60 years; but I think that some great and simultaneous effort should also be made to bring the masses of the Hindoo population, throughout the length and breadth of the land, to a sense of the enormity of the crime of killing their female infants, and to apprize them in the most emphatic manner, of the determination of the Government to suppress the inhuman practice.

Working of the new Codes.

37. Owing to the great labour and pains with which the Code of Criminal Procedure, and the Penal Code were inaugurated by Mr. Cust, the Judicial and Magisterial authorities of this Province possess a remarkably accurate knowledge of both Law and Procedure. Essential points are fairly attended to by all the Magistrates. Grave irregularities are, as a rule, brought to the notice of this Court, either by the Magistrates of Districts, or by the Commissioners in their capacity of Sessions Judges, and are here as far as possible rectified

Police

38. The majority of the Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners bear testimony to the greatly improved efficiency of the Police, and to their increased knowledge and observance of the Law The system is working well District Superintendents and their Assistants as a body observe due subordination to the Magistrates of Districts, and are by degrees beginning to feel and admit their subordination to the Magistracy at large The tendency to refer, in the way of appeal, the orders of Magistrates to the Deputy Inspectors General, under the impression that these officers were independent of, and superior to the Magistrates, is wearing off The discipline and general organization of the force are unexceptionable, but it is numerically too weak

Honorary Magisterial agency

39 As the union of Police with Magisterial powers was opposed to the existing policy, the Jageerdar Magistrates have, with three exceptions, been deprived of their Police powers. Their Magisterial functions have been on the whole satisfactorily performed The assistance rendered by the Board of Honorary Magistrates in the Cities of Lahore, Amritsur, Delhi, and elsewhere, is most substantial and valuable They are very popular Their success confirms me in an idea that I have long entertained, that we might greatly improve both our Criminal and Civil Courts, by creating Boards of stipendiary Magistrates, and Benches of Judges

Supervision by Sessions Judges

40 The Sessions Judges as a body maintain a close and efficient supervision over the Magisterial Courts

Working of Act XV of 1862

41 The Magistrates of Districts exercise their enhanced powers under Act XV of 1862 in a satisfactory manner, but I have observed a tendency to severity in the punishments they awarded I think that our European Magistrates as a body are too severe in their punishments The full term of imprisonment authorized by the Code is in too many instances awarded, and a heavy fine in addition imposed. More discrimination is required between cases attended with circumstances of aggravation, which call for the severest punishments, and ordinary cases, in which a lighter punishment would be sufficient Whenever the Code permits of fine as an alternative punishment, it should be awarded rather than imprisonment, and the amount of fine should not be excessive

42 An important State Trial, that of the Crown versus Mahomed Shuffee and ten others, charged with the offence of Abetting the Waging of War against the Queen, was held by Sir Herbert Edwardes, the Commissioner of Amballa, who convicted the accused, and sentenced three of them to suffer death, and the remaining eight to be transported for life. Five of the accused were residents of the Amballa District; five of them were residents of Patna; and the eleventh, of the Rajsye District in Bengal. The Treason was hatched 40 years ago at Patna, by Syad Ahmed the founder of the Wahabee sect in India, whose intolerent doctrines are sedulously inculcated over the whole breadth of upper India, from the Brahmuputra to the Indus. It was proved that the accused in this case had in various degrees been the agents for the collection and transmission of men and money through Patna, Thaneysur, and Amballa, to the Queen's enemies, the Hindostanee fanatics, at Mulkah and Sittana, both before and during the time of the recent military operations at Ambeyla; but the alternative punishment of transportation for life with forfeiture of all property, was deemed more just and appropriate in the present instance, and the sentences of death were accordingly commuted by this Court.

43. I subjoin a tabular Statement of the Magistracy of the Province, and the powers they exercise.

44. The Canal Officers, with the exception of the Executive Engineer at Madhopoor, only exersise powers under Act VII 1845.

45. The Judges of the Small Cause Courts practically take little part in the administration of Criminal Justice.

46. There are on an average 4 European and five Native Magistrates in each District, but only one-third of their time is devoted to criminal business, as they are likewise employed in the Civil, Judicial and Revenue administration.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

State of crime

2 In all the districts, except Kurnaul, there is as there was in the preceding year, an increase in reported crime In Delhi both bailable and non-bailable offences have increased, but the increase in non-bailable is greater than in bailable offences In Goorgaon, the increase in non bailable offences is considerable, but is far exceeded by the increase in bailable offences In Kurnaul, non bailable offences have somewhat increased, but there has been more than a corresponding decrease in bailable offences Comparing the entries of non bailable offences in column 4 of General Statement with those in Column 7, the results are that—in Delhi in 1863, 36 per cent of reported offences were brought to trial, and in 1864, 37 per cent in Goorgaon in 1863, 45 per cent, and in 1864, 44 per cent and in Kurnaul in 1863, 45 per cent, and in 1864, 36 per cent In Delhi crime has increased 19 per cent, in Goorgaon 34 per cent, and in Kurnaul 2½ per cent. In Delhi convictions (including committals) for non bailable offences, have increased 19 per cent, and in Goorgaon 59 per cent, while in Kurnaul they have decreased 12 per cent. From these details it is apparent that, while in Delhi crime has increased considerably, detection has increased exactly at the same ratio In Goorgaon there has been a great increase of crime, but detection has increased at a still higher ratio, and in Kurnaul while the increase of crime is small, detection is actually decreasing In Delhi the detective ability of the Police has not improved, and crime is in consequence on the increase. In Goorgaon although the success of the Police, in bringing Offenders to punishment, has not as yet been of much use in suppressing Crime, yet the apparent increase of crime, must in a great measure be ascribed to the vigilance of the police, for if they have been successful in detecting criminals, they must have been equally successful in detecting crime, while in Kurnal on the contrary the failure of the Police to detect criminals, is a sufficient proof of their inability to detect crime, and it is to this want of detective power on their part, that the apparent increase of reported crime is so small. In respect to detective efficiency in Delhi, the Police are in a state of stagnation, in Goorgaon they are vigorous and improving, and in Kurnaul they are deteriorating, and have already become conspicuously inefficient.

Result of Trials

3 With reference to Bailable offences in Delhi they have increased 15 per cent, in Goorgaon 88 per cent, and in Kurnaul 36 per cent Of persons brought to trial for bailable offences in 1863 in Delhi, 33 per cent were acquitted, in Goorgaon 23 per cent and in Kurnaul 31 per cent and in 1864, in Delhi 41 per cent in Goorgaon 18 per cent and in Kurnaul 43 per cent With offences of this class the Police have little concern, and the Magistrates are mainly responsible for the prosecutions. The above results shew that in Delhi and Kurnaul a large proportion of useless and unnecessary prosecutions have taken place, and that their administration has failed in this respect In Goorgaon although prosecutions have increased, few of them have been unnecessary In all the districts, these acquittals have occurred chiefly in cases of assault, trespass, and others of a similar character. I formerly commented on the want of discretion on the part of Magistrates in summoning accused parties in petty cases, and with reference to the remark of the Officiating Judicial Commissioner in para 12 of his report for 1863 I may here observe, that although the Magistrate cannot now summon witnesses before the attendance of the Defendant, the Code of Procedure still leaves him a large discretionary powers, which if properly exercised would prevent many unnecessary prosecutions, and save many persons from annoyance many useless prosecutions have occurred on charges of adultery or abduction, false complaint, false report of offence, and others of a similar character

Work of Magistrates

4 In all the districts more than a due proportion of the work has fallen to the share of the native Extra Assistants—Bunseelal of Delhi, Sufderhoosein of Goorgaon, and Mithunlal of Kurnaul In Kurnaul this could hardly have been avoided, as Mithunlall is posted at Kythul at a distance from the Sudder Station, and where serious offences are numerous. But in Delhi and Goorgaon much of the Civil and Revenue work is also consigned to these officers

* * * * *

The Honorary Magistrates of the City of Delhi have been recently appointed Their work has been performed in a satisfactory manner.

* * * * *

Duration of Trials.

6. In Delhi and Goorgaon, trials have been quickly disposed of, except those before the Tehseeldars of Delhi In Kurnaul there has been greater delay The delay in the Courts of the Tehseeldars of Delhi deserves special notice.

State of Lock-ups.

The Lock-ups are now in good order. Those of Goorgaon and Kurnaul are also used for Jail purposes, owing to the want of accommodation in the Central Jails The Lock-up at Goorgaon has been much improved As far as I can ascertain, bail is demanded in all prescribed cases. Personal recognizances are taken at the discretion of the Magistrate.

Pending file.

7 Few cases were pending at the close of the year, and none of long standing.

Witnesses.

8. The Diaries of witnesses shew favorably, but it is hardly possible that at Goorgaon none could have been detained for more than one day.

NATURE OF OFFENCES.

No. & nature of offences

9. Murder, Sec 302 Delhi. 1 case and 10 persons 1 person convicted and sentenced to death, and 9 acquitted. The convicted person was arrested immediately after the deed by a Town Chowkeedar. The 9 persons acquitted were arrested by the Police, on evidence which was proved to be false in the Sessions Court. This case was committed for trial late in December 1864, and the Sessions occurred in January 1865.

Kurnaul 1 case under Section 394, 1 person arrested by village Police, convicted and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for 5 years.

Delhi 1 case under Section 395, 8 persons arrested by Police, acquitted.

Giving false evidence, Section 193 Kurnaul 2 cases. 1 case, 2 persons arrested by order of Magistrate, convicted and sentenced each to rigorous imprisonment for 6 months, and fine of 50 Rupees, in default further rigorous imprisonment for 6 months—1 case, 2 persons arrested by order of Magistrate, convicted and sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for 1 year, and 1 for 6 months.

Sessions trials The following is a Tabular statement of the result of the Sessions trials.

		Convicted.	Acquitted	Total.
Arrested by Police on their own action,	...	20	33	53
Brought to trial by Magistrate,	...	4	"	4
	TOTAL,	24	33	57

This shews that there has been a great want of discretion on the part of the Police and Magistrates, in arresting and committing so many persons for trial on insufficient evidence The Sessions Statements shew the different punishments, except death, which was awarded in 4 instances In all these cases, except one pending before Judicial Commissioner, the sentence of death was confirmed In all sentences for terms of 7 years and upwards, transportation was awarded solitary confinement formed a portion of all sentences of imprisonment, whipping was the sentence in one case, and forfeiture of property was not considered necessary in any case The Sessions were held in the districts where the prisoners were committed at irregular intervals as circumstances permitted At the close of the year, two cases were pending but both have been disposed of, one case had been committed at Kurnaul in August 1864, and remained untried on account of my unavoidable detention at Delhi Assessors were always used, and were useful in cross examination, but it is sometimes difficult to obtain an unbiased opinion from them The condition of society is not yet fitted for the introduction of juries

No pending and date of oldest case pending

APPEALS

10 In Delhi appeals to the Deputy Commissioner were few, many officers having full powers, and so also in Goorgaon In Kurnaul they were more numerous, and their average duration excessive

Appeals to Magistrates

11. The appeals to the Sessions Judge have been very numerous, owing to the large number of Magistrates with full powers in the division But in a large majority of cases the appeals were rejected, or the orders upheld No order was upset on technical grounds reversals were generally the result of failure of evidence The delays in the decision of appeals are always owing to delay in the transmission of the files except when further information may become necessary No case, after the arrival of the files was more than one day before the Court In the 9 cases pending at the close of the year, the files had not arrived.

Appeals to Sessions Judge

PUNISHMENTS

12 Whipping has been freely used, perhaps more so than is advisable Imprisonment has been generally rigorous The Subordinate Judge of Goorgaon alone has awarded transportation, although at Delhi and Kurnaul there were cases in which it should have been ordered Solitary confinement is often omitted as part of the sentence, when it ought to have been awarded

* * * *

MISCELLANEOUS

14. Security for good conduct has been too often demanded at Kurnaul

* * * * * *

17. Record rooms are in good order I lately inspected the record office of the Jageerdar of Koonjpura, and found it in excellent order

State of record rooms

18 A considerable number of wild beasts have been destroyed, but in Kurnaul and Goorgaon several children are said to have been killed by ravenous beasts. I do not think these cases are properly inquired into

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

Number of cases.

2. As compared with 1863, there appears an increase in the number of cases disposed of in each District of the Division, this increase is greatest in Hissar, but nowhere is it such as to demand any special comment. Non bailable offences have on the whole decreased, except in Sirsa

* * * * *

Distribution of work

4 A comparison between the years 1863 and that under review, shows that the Tehseeldars (Sub magistrates) have disposed of a larger proportion of criminal cases than heretofore—a result which I have endeavoured as much as possible to attain, as one satisfactory to the people, and avoiding the unnecessary trouble of parties being brought in long distances to the Sudder Station As regards the distribution of work among sudder officers, it is only necessary to explain that the Extra Assistant Commissioner at Hissar, was chiefly employed in the Settlement Department, and disposed of comparatively little Criminal business

Disposals under Act XV of 1862

5 Under Act XV of 1862, the Deputy Commissioners have decided a goodly number of cases, the comparison between the past year and 1863 is complete, as during the whole period these powers were excercised by District officers. In Hissar and Sirsa, the number is considerably in excess of the previous year. In Rohtuck it is less ,All trials have been held with the aid of Assessors.

* * * *

Result of inquiries and trials

7. There is a very marked and satisfactory decrease in every District in the proportion of acquittals The percentage of the Division to the number of persons disposed of shews 8 for the past, to 17 of the year preceding—the highest percentage was in Hissar—Rohtuck and Sirsa about equal. In the present year's Returns, acquittals as distinguished from discharges, have been exhibited.

Duration of inquiries and trials

8. It is also a satisfactory feature of the year's administration, that considerable improvement is observable in the duration of trials in nearly all the Courts. It was good last year, but it is better for 1864. The only Court where any apparent retrogression is observable, is in that of the Extra Assistant Commissioner at Hissar, and in some of the Sub magisterial Courts of that and the Sirsa District, but this difference is immaterial, and probably in a great measure accidental I believe that despatch in so far as consistent with thorough investigation, is now a characteristic of the Criminal Courts of the Division, and a point which the Deputy Commissioners have well attended to during the year.

* * * *

10 The Lock ups are all I believe in good order I have recently inspected several of them in each District, and I may state that the orders on the subject have been every where now fully carried out. The rules regarding bail and personal recognizances have been had recourse to, whenever practicable

State of lock ups

Bail and personal recognizances

11 The files at the end of the year were creditably clear There is only one old case in the Division, pertaining to the Sirsa District—it is a case under the Track Law, having reference to some villages of Puttialla, which dates from July 1864—it was returned as incomplete from my Court to which it had been referred for confirmation of award in July last, and should certainly have been disposed of—the Deputy Commissioner has been directed to settle it as soon as possible The next longest pending case at the close of the year, dated from the 2nd December 1861, and belonged to the Hissar District.

SESSIONS TRIALS

13 A larger number of persons were tried in the Sessions Court than in the preceding year—the number of cases has also increased. Nearly half the trials were for murder under Section 302, I P C There was one case of Dacoity, two of Highway Robbery, and the remainder were cases of minor offences. Of the persons committed for trial, one fourth were acquitted—of those convicted, one third were sentenced to transportation Two individuals were sentenced to capital punishment, but the sentence was modified by the Judicial Commissioner The remainder were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment with and without fine, one person to fine alone There has been no forfeiture of property In all cases of imprisonment, the legal proportion of solitary confinement was included in the sentence.

Number and general nature of offences.

Result of trials

14 These trials were all held at the Head Quarters of the Districts to which the cases pertained. They were all held with the aid of Assessors Of the character and efficiency of the Assessors I can speak generally favorably, some are exceedingly intelligent, and are of considerable use.

Jail Deliveries.

* * * *

17. I would remark that the preparation of committals has been for the most part careful and correct. The provisions of Judicial Book Circular No 76 of 1861, as to the preparation of calendars is now better understood, though some few have had to be returned or corrected—in this respect I think the Rohtuck District has been most conspicuous in accuracy—Hissar the least so.

Committals

18. It has been found desirable to increase the number of persons enrolled as Assessors, which will obviate the too frequent appearance of the same persons either at the Sessions or Sub-Judges Court, found to be an evil and an inconvenience to the people.

APPEALS TO MAGISTRATE OF DISTRICT.

Proportion of appeals to trials

19 The proportion of Appeals to Trials in the Courts of the Magistrates of Districts, is much the same as for last year, except in Sirsa where there is a marked increase for which no special reason is assigned The proportion of reversals to appeals made, has increased in the Hissar and Sirsa Districts, reflecting somewhat discreditably on the Lower Courts—whilst a smaller proportion of cases were returned for further inquiry than in 1863 Interference in the decisions of the lower courts was, it is stated, for the most part necessitated by "Error of judgment." As far as the distribution of punishment is concerned, Sub-Magistrates (Tehsildars) are often apt to err in judgment, and such can on appeal be to some extent remedied under Section 419 C P Code, and occasion be taken to instruct and advise them, but entire reversal of decisions must if numerous, imply a want of judgment on the part of the Sub Magistrate, which would demand notice. I have called the attention of Magistrates of Districts to the subject.

Do of reversals, &c.

* * * * * *

Working of the system of record

21. The System of record prescribed by Judicial Book Circular No 37 of 1862 is strictly followed, and works well In Hissar owing to the entire business having been for a time thrown on the Deputy Commissioner, Rule IV B was availed of There has been much attention paid to this subject in each District, and with satisfactory results Native Magistrates invariably write autograph Memoranda of evidence and judgment I may however state, that I have had occasion specially to notice an irregularity in one District, under Section 267 C P Code, which has been now corrected.

Autograph abstracts by Native Magistrates

APPEALS TO SESSIONS JUDGE

Proportion of appeals

22 A larger number of appeals was preferred during the past year than in 1863. In nearly half, or 46 per cent the orders were upheld, 25 per cent were rejected, 11 per cent were modified, 13 per cent reversed, and 5 per cent returned for re-inquiry—these results approximate closely to those of the previous year The reversals however are somewhat fewer than in 1863, which I regard as a favourable feature I have found occasionally an apparent tendency too easily to convict, and a want of sufficient care and judgment in determining the extent and nature of punishment.

Reversals, and cases returned for inquiry

NATURE OF PUNISHMENTS.

Proportion of persons whipped, fined, and imprisoned

24 A larger proportion of offenders appears to have been sentenced to whipping in each District, than in the former year and a smaller proportion fined. The proportion of persons imprisoned, however, remains much as for the former year, so that sentence to whipping in lieu of imprisonment would appear not to have been more freely resorted to than heretofore This is a point which requires attention, as one of the main objects of the legislature in legalizing corporal punishment, was undoubtedly to enable the Magistrate to dispense with imprisonment in certain cases, and I doubt whether this has been sufficiently taken advantage of In reviewing criminal disposals, both on appeal and otherwise, occasion has been taken by me to point this out for the guidance and consideration of the Lower Courts The effect of the Whipping Act on the statistics of criminal justice, will necessarily be less apparent in this Province, as up to the time of its introduction, corporal chastisement was in force, and the Act came into operation only in the last six months of the year under review

Realization of fines Compensation

26 Of the fines imposed 54 per cent have been realized to 65 per cent in 1863. This seems a fair proportion—many of the offenders are residents of outside territory, and where imprisonment is combined with fine, payment is seldom made until the alternative period of imprisonment commences The fines appear for the most part to have been judiciously imposed About 7 per cent of the fines were paid in compensation under Section 44 C P C

Solitary Confinement

27 I find no reason to question the propriety of the degree to which solitary confinement has been resorted to in sentences On visiting the jails I have always found the cells full, and in reviewing files I have found that the matter has been carefully attended to

* * * * * * *

POLICE

How far Police have conformed to the law ?

29. The Police appear to have generally conformed to the Law, and irregularities have been less frequent than formerly The Deputy Commissioners of Rohtuck and Hissar, report very favorably on this point, and I believe that in those Districts the efficiency of the District Superintendent is a guarantee that the matter has been really well attended to In Sirsa, the Deputy Commissioner complains of some irregularities, which I have thought it right at once to bring to the notice of the Inspector General of Police The Deputy Commissioner of Sirsa nevertheless admits that the Police have "pretty fairly' conformed to the Law, and there as elsewhere there has been improvement

MISCELLANEOUS.

State of record rooms

34 I have inspected all the Record Rooms during the year, and found all in good order. At Hissar somewhat extensive alterations have been necessitated to the Court house, which has deranged the Record Rooms, but this will shortly be righted

Destruction of wild beasts

35 Opinions seem to differ as to the effect as yet observable consequent on the enhanced rates of reward for the destruction of wild animals—the Deputy Commissioner of Hissar states that no difference is yet apparent—the Deputy Commissioner of Sirsa on the other hand remarks, that the measure has given a "great impetus" to the destruction of wild beasts No doubt the good effects will be more apparent next year In this Division, the instances of destruction to human life, from the attacks of animals, are happily rare

* * * * * * *

Revision of cases

41 The periodical revision by Magistrates of the criminal disposals of their subordinates I have strictly insisted on, and I believe the instructions have been faithfully attended to In order to afford Assistants and Extra Assistants opportunity of profiting by such inspection, each receives every month the work of a

Tehseeldar (Sub Magistrate), and forwards to the Magistrate any cases of irregularity which are discovered If the system be thoroughly carried out, very few errors can escape detection, and it is only by constant inspection that correct procedure can be ensured The Sub-Magistrates and Magistrates are now for the most part well up in the requirements of the Codes, and as compared with the preceding year, a marked improvement is observable I may add that to my own court a selection of files from every criminal court is sent up each month for inspection, and the practice has proved most useful.

42 For the rest, the Statements which accompany will suffice to illustrate the operations of the past year It has been one of progress in some respects, and I trust the results will be considered satisfactory.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES.

2 The number of cases and of persons disposed of during the year under review, were considerably in excess of those of the previous year, being

		Cases	Persons.
In 1863,	...	2,629	5,036
In 1864,	...	3,270	6,608

This increase occurred in almost the same ratio in the Amballa and Loodianah Districts

The largest proportionate increase being in the number disposed of under Act 15 of 1862, which must afford very great relief to the Sessions Courts

3. The proceedings against the large number of persons adverted to by the Deputy Commissioner of Amballa, under Act 5 of 1861, appear to me to have been illegal, as Section 34 of that Act under which nuisances are punishable, is only applicable to Stations where there is a European Officer In both Districts the number of petty and frivolous cases brought forward in consequence of the abolition of the Stamp and Tulubana fees is noticed. I do not think the power of fine under the Procedure Code has been so largely resorted to as is desirable. In Loodhiana there was not a single case.

5 The percentage of aquittals to the number of persons tried was for the Division 28 per cent, and for each district as follows —

Amballa,	...	30	Per cent.
Loodhiana,	...	25	"
Simla,	...	23	"

These percentages are calculated in the way prescribed in the note to column 8, Statement 8, but I cannot help thinking that for column 16, should be read column 17, column 16 merely shows the number acquitted of petty offences in which no formal charge is required, and of heinous offences after arraignment on a formal charge The large number who are discharged after going through all the trouble and disgrace of a Criminal Prosecution, but against whom no formal charge is prepared, are omitted. In Umballa there was not a single man acquitted of a Non Bailable Offence after arraignment on a formal charge, which shows that this part of the procedure is little more than nominal.

The true Percentage in Amballa appears to me to be 46 per cent in Non Bailable, and 33 in Bailable offences.

The latter has been unfavourably affected by the number of withdrawals, but this has been counterbalanced by the large number convicted under one heading of the Police Act In Loodhiana the Percentages calculated in the same way were 43 and 37 respectively. In Simla a totally opposite system has been pursued to that in Amballa, and nearly all the acquittals have been after arraignment on a formal charge, so that the Percentage for that District is nearly 8, and is low. In Amballa and Loodhiana I consider it high

6. The average duration of cases for the whole Division was nearly 5 days, and is the same as in 1868 for Loodhiana and Simla, but in Amballa there is a marked improvement, the average having fallen from 9 to 6 days.

* * * * *

8 The number of cases which remained pending when the year closed, was 14, viz.

In Amballa,	..	4	Cases.
In Loodhiana,	.....	10	"

The oldest of those in Amballa was dated 6th December 1864, and of those in Loodhiana 8th October 1864 Regarding the latter, the Deputy Commissioner explains that the Witnesses or other parties in them had to be summoned from distant districts, or from foreign territory There were no cases left undecided in the Simla District.

9. 9,371 Witnesses were examined in the several District Courts, of which 8,975, or nearly 96 per cent were discharged in one day. There was however on some occasions delay in the discharge of witnesses in the Loodhiana District, 10 persons having been detained 15 days in the Court of Captain Horne, Assistant Commissioner. The Deputy Commissioner considers that he was very dilatory in the disposal of cases made over to him for trial Captain Horne's work was certainly to some extent open to this objection, but his investigations were generally very complete He erred perhaps in making them too lengthy, but this is certainly better than the opposite extreme.

SESSIONS COURTS

10 In the Sessions' Court 12 cases, comprising 34 persons (including 1 case and 1 person of the year before) were brought to trial, and all of them were disposed of before the year closed They were as follows —

Attempting to wage war against the Queen,	1	Case.
Murder,	10	„
Dacoity with murder,	1	„
TOTAL,	12	Cases

11. Of the 34 persons disposed of were

Referred to your Court,	11
Transported for life,	16
Sentenced to limited terms,	1
Acquitted,	6
TOTAL,	34

Of those reported to your Court, 2 were hanged, and 4 transported No orders have yet been received regarding the remaining 5, who were implicated in a serious case of Dacoitee with bloodshed Dakoitee appears to have been the work of a highly organized and resolute gang The leaders are still at large, and have since the close of the year committed a fresh outrage in murdering the principal informer against the members of the gang who have been convicted. A large reward and special measures for their capture and that of the rest of the gang, have been recommended.

* * * *

APPEALS.

13 60 Appeals were preferred to the Magistrate during the year, which is in the proportion of 18 to the Cases disposed of by the Subordinate Magistrates. Of these 4, or 6 per cent were reversed, and 44 or 73 per cent confirmed.

Average duration of appeals

14. The average duration of appeals disposed of by the Deputy Commissioners was 10 days, which is not so favorable as in 1863, when it was only 3 days. The longest period for which an Appeal was pending was

In Amballa,	46	days
In Loodhiana,	8	„

The average duration in Amballa was too long viz, 13 days, every exertion should be made to dispose of Criminal Appeals promptly, as the privilege of Appeal is valueless, if the order is not issued until a considerable portion of the sentence has expired

15 The appeals to the Sessions Court amounted to 335 cases (being 15 in excess of those preferred in the preceding year), of these 270 were disposed of during the year, leaving 65 cases pending at its close. Of the disposals were

Confirmed,	243	or 72	per cent.
Modified,	14	or 4	„
Reversed,	13	or 4	„

The average time each appeal took in its disposal was 61 days, and the longest period for which an Appeal was pending, was 156 days The remaining 65 have with 2 or 3 exceptions been disposed of since The proportion confirmed is large A great number of them ought to have been entered as rejected, as they were from orders from which no Appeal is allowed. The 65 remaining undecided at the end of the year contained a large proportion of doubtful cases, and there was a higher proportion of reversals among them. As a rule in the cases decided by European Officers that have come before me, the evidence has been recorded in the vernacular, with an English Abstract and Judgment But in the Court of the Cantonment Magistrate the English Abstract has not been so generally prepared as it ought to be.

* * * * *

17 The amount of fines imposed during the year aggregate Rs 84,484, of which 43 per cent was realized. Out of the amount realized, only 3 per cent was awarded in compensation to complainants.

* * * * *

18 The amount of fines in all the Districts has been in excess of that in 1863 —The largest increase has been in Amballa, and the Deputy Commissioner alludes to the exceptional cases in which they were inflicted I believe a large proportion of them were remitted by the superior Courts. The value of this return would be much enhanced if the amount remitted on appeal were shown, and also the number of persons from whom the fine is realized, in whole or in part, out of the number on whom it is imposed. The statement is generally so affected by one or two heavy cases, that it does not practically show any thing of the working of the Courts. Forfeiture of property were resorted to in the case of attempting to wage war against the Queen, but it is not generally enforced The percentage of compensation given is very small

Working of Act 6 of 1864

19 None of the Deputy Commissioners have attempted to show how Act 6 of 1864 has affected the statistics of criminal justice. I am hardly in a position, joining as I did at the end of the year, to be able to offer any Remarks from personal experience in the matter The call for this report by the Supreme Government seems more to refer to places in which the Act introduced more severity than was previously exercised, rather than to the Punjab in which flogging is restricted by it within narrower limits than before

20 There have I believe been a good many irregularities in the application of the provisions of the Act, and I do not think much information is to be gathered from the return furnished—as far it goes, it shows that 43 adults were flogged in addition to other punishments on first conviction, who could not have been flogged under the Act The practice of flogging under the Punjab rules was a good deal checked before Act 6 was introduced, by the doubts officers felt of the legality of it, but as compared with 1862, there has been a large decrease in the number flogged, and in lieu of flogging other punishments must necessarily have been inflicted.

21 Even granting the propriety of limiting the infliction of flogging in addition to other punishments to cases of 2nd conviction, I think that the expression "Same offence" in Sections 3 and 4, limits the power too narrowly, and that the words "Any one of the said offences might with advantage be substituted.

POLICE

22 Having only recently taken charge of the Division, I am unable to offer any remarks of my own on the subject, and would refer to those of the Deputy Commissioners', who express themselves as well satisfied with the proceedings of the Police

23 There appears to be nothing under the Miscellaneous heading to be added to the remarks of the District Officers, except as I have already noticed the proceedings in the villages of the Umballa District, in suppressing nuisances under Act 5 of 1861, appear to have been irregular.

JALLANDAR DIVISION.

Major J E Cracroft, Commissioner and Superintendent.

[Received 20th February 1865]

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

2 The number of cases disposed of in this Division during 1864 is 6,560, which shows a considerable increase over 1863, when the number was only 4,151 The difference is chiefly in the Kangra District where the number of cases diposed of in 1864 is 3,069, to 1,763 in 1863, and is accounted for by the numerous inquiries entered into through the agency of the Forest Department, relative to injury to forest laws and injury to timber now punished under the Penal Code

3 As compared with 1863, the number of cases disposed of by Sub Judges has increased, and will it is confidently expected still further increase with advantage—the Deputy Commissioner of Hoshiarpur has done the greater proportion all Officers have disposed of more work than last year, and the increase is most conspicuous among the Sub Magistrates 1st Class of the Kangra District The amount of work done by Honorary Magistrates has been very small, and there are no city Magistrates in this Division The District Superintendents of Police have done no Magisterial work in the year under report.

* * * * * *

7 Of the persons brought to trial, about 34 per cent were acquitted and discharged, and the proportion in the previous year was about the same. The total number of persons acquitted and discharged after trial is as follows —

	Discharged	Acquitted
Jalandar,	719	220
Hoshiarpur,	190	355
Kangra,	734	1,039
Total,	1,643	1,614

which gives a percentage of actual acquittals for the whole Division of about 17 per cent, to which Jallandar bears the lowest proportion or about 9 per cent This percentage is extraordinarily low, and I suspect shews that some confusion exists in the mode of recording discharges and acquittals in the Jallandhar District A reference will be made on the subject

Duration of Trials

8 The average duration of trials for the year under report speaks favorably of the increased promptitude and dispatch shewn in all districts the following comparative detail is given —

	1863	1864
Jallandar,	13	5
Hoshiarpur,	5	5
Kangra,	11	10

Cases Pending at close of the year

9 The Number of cases pending at the close of 1864, was—59 for the whole Division—greater than in the previous year, and of these the largest proportion is found in the Kangra District the oldest date was the 1st November 1864 in the Kangra District, and 13th November 1864 in Hoshiarpur, other cases were all in December The causes of delay are all sufficiently explained, either from the serious nature of the offence, or the necessity of attendance of parties from other Districts

Detention of witnesses

10. Witnesses have not been detained any length of time in the various Courts of the Districts during the past year In the Jallandar District, 12 witnesses were detained for 16 days, and 3 for 18 days, but in both cases the Deputy Commissioner has satisfactorily explained the cause of delay In Hoshiarpur 6 Witnesses were detained for 18 days, the cause of which is unexplained by Deputy Commissioner

Bailable Offences

11 Of the number of persons brought to trial, that admitted to Bail was much larger than in 1863, shewing that all officers now feel that, where the law admits of it, Bail should be granted as a right, and not as a favour

Lock ups

12. The state of the Lock ups is satisfactory At Jallandar a new Lock up has been built inside the Jail, and also one near the Kacheri for use while the courts are sitting In Hoshiarpur also improvements have been effected, and of the Honorary Magistrates, the Rajas of Siba and Nadaon have erected Lock-ups in their Jurisdictions.

Sessions Trials.

13. There has been an increase in the number of persons tried, being 69 against 53 in the previous year: only 3 persons were referred to the Suddur Court. The proportion of acquittals to the number of persons tried was 13 per cent; this return is favorable to the Committing Officers. I believe all Sessions Judges are agreed as to the beneficial operation of Act XV. of 1862, and the number of cases referred to the Sessions Court has been greatly reduced. More time is thus afforded for attention to the weighty matters constantly demanding it in this Division, in which work is exceedingly heavy. The number of persons tried for Murder in 1864 was 17, against 22 in the previous year. In last year's Report Colonel Lake noticed strongly that the motive for this crime was the immorality of women; in the present year I can only discover two cases in which that is the cause. Of the persons tried, 3 referred to the Suddur Court were sentenced to death, 9 to transportation for life, 1 to transportation above 7 years, and the rest to rigorous imprisonment for periods ranging from to 2 to 10 years, combined in most cases with fine, which in all amounted to Rupees 2,770; of this Rupees 378 were awarded in compensation. Solitary confinement within authorized limits was also awarded in many cases.

Assessors.

14. In his Report for 1863, Colonel Lake mentioned unfavorably the assessors of the Hoshiarpur District, but a change has now been effected for the better. Of 13 cases tried with their aid, in only 2 did the Sessions Judge differ in opinion with them. The assessors of other Districts, viz, Jallandar and Kangra have maintained the character given of them by Colonel Lake; out of 24 cases tried in these Districts, the Sessions Judge differed with the assessors only in two.

Jail Deliveries.

15. Jail Deliveries have been held at the Suddur Stations of Districts in which the offence occurred. The average duration of each Sessions Trial was 25 days against 40 days in 1863. There were 3 cases pending at the close of the year: the oldest date being the 30th November 1864.

* * * * * *

APPEALS.

Appeals to Magistrates.

16. The increase in the number of appeals as compared with previous year is greatest in the Hoshiarpur District. The percentage of orders modified or reversed on appeal is very small in all Districts. The average duration of appeals was in Jallandar 13 days, in Hoshiarpur 12 days, and in Kangra 3 days, which when compared with the previous year is good, especially in Kangra where the average duration last year was 18 days.

17. As far as has come under my notice, the Criminal Procedure Code and the system of English Record have been strictly conformed to. The English abstracts of some Officers bear very favorable comparison with others. Major Eliott, Captain Smyley, and Mr. T. W. Smyth, deserve great praise in this respect. Major Elphinstone's abstracts are generally short and to the purpose. The Rules regarding Summons and Warrants, as far as I have tested, are properly attended to. Most Officers have shewn marked endeavour to secure accuracy and precision, as regards the working of the Procedure Code.

18. The number of Appeals is less than in the prevous year by 8. From Jallandar and Kangra the Appeals are fewer than last year; but those from Hoshiarpur shew an increase of 37. Fewer cases have been confirmed this year than last, but many more have been rejected. There was only 1 case pending, dated 23rd December, 1864. The average duration of each appeal was about 19 days, much the same as last year A change of Officers in this Division caused some delay in the disposal of appeals.

* * * * * *

PUNISHMENTS

Compensation paid to complainants.

21. The subjoined statement shews the amount of fines realized, and the amount paid as compensation —

	Amount of fines Realized	Compensation Paid.
Jallandar, ...	11,605	819
Hoshiarpur, ...	10,632	914
Kangra, ...	11,714	859
Total, ...	33,951	2,592

The sum paid in compensation is greatly in excess of last year, being 2,592 Rupees as against 1,210 Rupees of the fines imposed taking each District separately, Jalandar realized 90 per cent, Hoshiarpur 84 per cent, and Kangra 60 per cent.

POLICE

22 It would appear from the District Reports that the Police have generally conformed to the Law, the cordial assistance rendered by the Police to the Magistrates, has ensured an unanimity of feeling and action, which is very gratifying, and has elicited the acknowledgments of District officers.

* * * * * * * *

BREACH OF ARMS ACT

The following statement shews the number of convictions for breach of the Arms Act and the number of arms seized —

District		Persons Convicted.	Arms seized.
Jallandar, ...	1863,	1	4
	1864,	3	44
Hoshiarpur, ...	1863,	11	37

Kangra, ...	1863,	10	7
	1864,	12	11
TOTAL, ...	1863,	22	48
	1864,	49	164

More persons have been punished than in the previous year, and the number of arms seized is much greater, and consisted chiefly of swords and matchlocks.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Destruction of wild beasts.

24 Compared with last year there has been a slight falling off in the total number of beasts destroyed.

		No killed	Cost	No of persons killed.	No of persons injured.
Jallandar, ...		6	Rs 18	...	...
Hoshiarpur, ...		25	,, 108	..	2

Total, ..	1861,	326	Rs 1,700	7	3
	1863,	350	,, 1,648	2	4

Leopards and bears in the Kangra district were the animals of which the number destroyed was greater than in the previous year, the cost has been somewhat greater as well as the loss of life, but fewer people have been injured, and children have wholly escaped.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES.

Cases disposed of

2 The total number of cases disposed of is 5,662 to 5,559 in 1863, the increase appears attributable to the fact, that during the past year a greater proportion of the offences ascertained to have been committed were brought to trial I think trivial cases such as causing hurt, nuisance, &c contribute a good deal to swell the columns.

* * * *

4 The Deputy Commissioners under Act XV of 1862 disposed of 237 cases as follows:—

Amritsur, ...	147
Sealkote, ...	42
Goordaspur, ...	48

And the Honorary Magistrates of 1,199 as follows —

Amritsur, ...	1,196
Sealkote, ...	..
Goordaspur, ...	3

Those of Amritsur are familarily known to me, and I believe they gave entire satisfaction. Indeed so thoroughly is the distinction appreciated, that Bhai Puridomun Sing head of one of the best families has formally applied for the next vacancy, which I recommend his obtaining. This institution is a great relief to the local Officers, and gives them time for the more methodical preparation of cases as now required by law

* * * *

Board of city Magistrates

6 The Board of City Magistrates at Amritsur continues to work satisfactorily, the Magistrates disposed of 1,014 cases Their decisions pass daily under review of the Deputy Commissioner, and it rarely happens that grounds exist for interfering with their orders.

Result of inquiries and trials proportion of acquittals

7 Out of 10,802 persons brought to trial, 4 019 were either discharged or acquitted The result is least favorable in Goordaspur, where the discharges and acquittals exceeded the convictions, nor is there room for supposing otherwise than that the parties were brought to trial on insufficient evidence, for a reference to Statement No II will shew that the proportion of acquittals in each of the several courts of this District is much the same There must be some difference in the mode of entry between Amritsur and Goordaspur, which shall be inquired into, and will no doubt clear up this discrepancy

The Amritsur case shown as longest pending has since been disposed of The case referred to as pending since 23rd April 1864 in Goordaspur, is an exceptional one. It is the case of the murder of the Surdarnee of Rungur Nungul, and has been kept pending under orders of Government Excluding the above two cases, the result as regards pending cases is very satisfactory The Rungur Nungul case is on the record of my file for 1861

Number and general native of offences

11. The Statement shews 34 cases involving 53 persons There has been a slight increase in the murder cases Five persons in 2 cases were brought to trial, and convicted of giving or fabricating false evidence There were no trials under this head in 1863

Result of trials

12 Out of 53 offences charged, the acquittals were 13, this result is more satisfactory than that attained in 1863, when out of 54 offences, acquittal was awarded in respect of 22

* * * *

Assessors

13 I have tried two or three Sessions cases here, and can vouch for the intelligence of the Assessors, and the careful attention with which they listen to the cases throughout

Amritsur,	...	1	appeal	to 29	cases tried.
Goordaspur,	...	1	do	to 85	"

The paucity of appeals in Goordaspur may be accounted for by the number of acquittals.

* * * *

Average duration, and longest period an appeal was pending.

17 The Average duration of appeals was 17 days in Amritsur, 19 in Goordaspur, and 3 days in Sealkote, the longest period an appeal was pending was as follows.—

Goordaspur,	...	...	52 "
Sealkote,,	...	...	9 "

Working of record system

18. Under the superintendence of Mr. Melvill, you may feel assured that all that could be done, was done to ensure precision as well as despatch.

APPEALS TO SESSIONS JUDGE

19. There were 335 appeals to Sessions Judge out of 5,662 cases disposed of, i. e. 1 appeal to every 17 cases

There were 32 reversals, or 1 reversal to every 10 appeals preferred

12 Cases were returned for re-investigation, i e. one case to every 28 appeals preferred.

Average duration longest period an appeal was pending.

20. The average duration was 13 days, the longest number of days that an appeal was pending was 74 days.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Fines, suspensions, and dismissals of Judicial ministerial officials

25. 20 Officials were fined during the year and 5 dismissed, 3 being Jail Burkundazes of Goordaspur district, and the Jail Darogah and Mohurir of Sealkote for neglect of duty. The punishments it will be seen have been fewer this year, which speaks favorably for the general conduct of the ministerial staff, but personally I object to fining ministorial Officers. Two or three warnings and dismissal to the incorrigible, are quite enough.

Destruction of wild Beasts.

26. 85 Wild Beasts were killed and Rs. 552 disbursed as rewards, 10 persons being killed and 3 injured: no casualties occurred in Goordaspur, this seems remarkable, as the greatest number of wild beasts were destroyed in this District. In Sealkote 5 persons were killed and 3 injured, while only 2 animals were killed. The enhanced rewards recently sanctioned will doubtless have the effect of stirring up the people to greater activity in regard to the extirpation of these wild animals, and the permission accorded to licences being granted to Lumberdars of Villages and Shikarees, should be freely taken advantage of, as otherwise the rigid enforcement of the provisions of the Arms Act, will inevitably lead to disastrous results, in respect to the loss of human life from beasts of prey.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

Number of cases disposed of.

2 The number of cases disposed of on trial in the District courts was in

Lahore,	... ...	3,152 Cases
Goojranwalla,	... ...	1,593 „
Ferozepur,	... .	1,159 „
	TOTAL,	5,904 Cases

Compared with the previous year this is an increase of 1,378 Cases. The greater portion of this increase is in the Lahore District, and is stated by the Deputy Commissioner to be undoubtedly owing to greater activity in detection on the part of the Police This is the invariable ascription, but it would be satisfactory to know in what Class of Offences there has been an increase, but none of the Statements show the Offences of the two years in a comparative form, and this information cannot therefore readily be obtained

* * * * *

Amount of work done by Deputy Commissioners under Act XV of 1862, and Honorary Magistrates of all grades.

4 124 Cases were disposed of by the Deputy Commissioners of this Division in their capacity of Sub judges, and 1,742 cases by Honorary Magistrates. The disposal of this large number of cases by Honorary Magistrates has relieved the Stipendiary Magistrates to a very appreciable extent

Special Notice of work done by City Magistrates

5. The Deputy Commissioner, Lahore remarks, that the quantity and quality of the work performed by the Board of Honorary Magistrates in the City of Lahore is deserving of every praise They disposed of 1,186 cases, in only 53 of which appeals were preferred

The Deputy Commissioner, Goojranwalla, also remarks, that the work of the Honorary Magistrates continues to give great satisfaction I fully concur in the opinion expressed by these officers, as to the great utility of the Honorary Magistrates.

* * * *

Result of inquiries and trials

7 The number of persons brought to trial during the year was 10,522, being 1,909 more than in the previous year—of this number 45 or 0 4 per cent were committed to the Sessions, 6,546 or 62 per cent convicted, 3,850 or 36 per cent discharged or acquitted, and 64 persons were under trial at the close of the year, 20 in custody, and 44 on bail or recognizance. The proportion of convictions, I find, is below that of the previous year, which was 68 per cent.

Duration of inquiries and trials before each grade of Magistrate.

8. The average duration of inquiries and trials was in

Lahore, ...	3 days
Goojranwalla, ...	6 „
Ferozepur, ...	5 „

The Lahore and Ferozepore averages in this respect correspond exactly with the previous year The Goojranwalla average shows an increase of one day. The average duration of trials for the entire Province in 1863, I observe, was 6 days, the result for this Division is therefore somewhat below this.

* * * *

Diary of witnesses.

11. It is only in the Lahore District that witnesses have been detained above 3 days. The Deputy Commissioner remarks that under the new procedure and mode of record, great exertions are necessary when there is a pressure of work, to prevent the detention of witnesses

Character and efficiency of Assessors

14. Only one Sessions trial was conducted during the year without the aid of assessors. In the 25 cases in which assessors were employed, the decision of Sessions Judge agreed with the opinion of the majority of the assessors in 23, in only two cases therefore did it differ.

I was surprised at the intelligence evinced by the assessors in the Lahore and Ferozepore Districts.

APPEALS TO MAGISTRATES OF DISTRICTS.

Proportion of appeals to trials.

17 The number of appeals preferred to District Magistrates from the orders of their subordinates was 138, equivalent to 2 3 per cent of the cases disposed of. On trial of these appeals, 11 were rejected, in 63 the sentence of the lower Court was confirmed, in 24 modified, in 38 reversed, and in 2 returned for re-investigation.

The general grounds for reversing sentences and returning cases for re investigation were want of evidence to support the finding, or for incompleteness in the original inquiry.

Average duration of appeals.

18 The average duration of these appeals was in

Lahore,	...	...	6	days
Goojranwalla,	...	...	25	„
Ferozepoor,	...	...	3	„

The average duration in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner, Goojranwalla, continues excessively high It considerably exceeds the Provincial average for 1863, which was only 8 days.

Working of the system of record prescribed in Book Circular No 37, of 1862.

19 The system of record is now strictly adhered to by all officers, and the result is undoubtedly good, it procures a complete record of the trial in the Magistrate's own writing The difficulties at first experienced in carrying out this system have I think now been almost overcome.

APPEALS TO SESSIONS JUDGE.

20 The number of appeals preferred to my court during the year was 260 In 172 cases the sentence of the lower court was confirmed, in 20 modified, in 42 reversed, in 16 returned for re investigation, and 10 cases remained pending at the close of the year.

The amount of fines imposed during the year was Rs. 82,581. Rs. 37,634, of which were realized, as also Rs 6,168 on account of fines imposed in previous years Although the proportion of fines realized is considerably larger than in the previous year, yet the large amount remaining unrealized unquestionably shows, that the amount of fine imposed in many cases is beyond the means of the offender to pay The amount of compensation awarded to complainants was Rs 7,604, Rs 3,261 of which was paid.

In the course of the year I drew your attention to the extreme severity of certain sentences passed when the parties convicted were not old offenders, and no necessity for exceptionally heavy punishment as a deterrent existed.

Working of the Whipping Act

22 I here record the opinions of the Deputy Commissioners of this Division in regard to the working of the Whipping Act, which was introduced this year —

The Deputy Commissioner of Lahore remarks as follows —

> "Act VI of 1864, has not had any effect on statistics of Criminal Justice, nor does it appear likely to have Flogging was resorted to as a punishment under the old law, and up to date on which Act VI was promulgated, with greater severity and promptness than the Act allows. It of course depends much on the part of the country referred to, whether the punishment of whipping as laid down in Act VI, will act as a deterrent or not. In the Lahore District such of the Criminal classes as come under the lash feel neither shame nor sufficiently lasting pain, to make them dread a whipping more than imprisonment"

The Deputy Commissioner, Goojranwalla, makes the following observations —

> "We are directed to report specially on the subject of whipping. It will be seen that, out of 1,453 persons convicted, only 119 were sentenced to stripes. The punishment is most valuable in certain cases, combined with a short term of imprisonment for the first offence. It enables the Magistrates to greatly reduce the term of imprisonment, and therefore the reduction in the legal number of stripes allowed is not advantageous. A month's solitary confinement with 20 stripes the first day, and 20 on the last, has a very serious deterring effect, and, in many first offences six months' imprisonment, with the same sentence of stripes, was equal in effect to a year's imprisonment. It relieved the Jails, and let the prisoner out before he had become a regular Jail Criminal But it is of little value for a second offence, where the object is to detain a dangerous character as long as possible, and not to give him physical pain, and for a first offence if given without imprisonment, it is little cared for by the grown up thieving population. It is especially valuable for juvenile and for younger thieves up to 25 or so, who get a check at the beginning and avoid jail experience and jail friendship, and it is still more valuable for receivers of stolen property."

The Deputy Commissioner Ferozepore is of opinion that the Act restricts the wholsome power of flogging rather too much, for this Province just at present

POLICE

24 The Deputy Commissioners of Lahore and Ferozepore furnish the following information regarding the working of the Police, which appears highly creditable to that Department —

"I During the whole year only one case occurred in which the Police exceeded their powers, and took cognizance of an offence, for which they were not empowered to arrest without a warrant."

"II Written complaints on the parts of sufferers by theft are still the exception not the rule, but cases of theft without violence, are not unnecessarily taken up by the Police, and certainly not without a request of some kind being preferred."

"III The Magistrate is kept informed of all offences. The form of Diary introduced last year has been kept up, and found to be very useful by showing the Magistrate at a glance all the offences reported every day from every Police station in the District"

"IV No depositions are ever taken, nor confessions recorded by the Police in this District."

"V No parties are ever detained longer than 24 hours in lock up without a remand from Magistrate"

"VI. No opinions as to guilt are expressed by the Police, when forwarding charge sheet"

"VII. Throughout the year the Police have erred in two instances only, in releasing parties once arrested without the special order of the Magistrate One was discharged from Bail, and the other from his own recognizances—the report of the cases being submitted afterward This was an oversight, and not likely to occur again"

"The Police continue to improve, and the Department is now a most valuable auxiliary to the Magistrate From the first, I have ever been a warm supporter of this new and separate organization, and I am happy to be able to testify that it is now rapidly attaining to a high standard of efficiency I never could, nor can I now, comprehend the complaints which are sometimes heard of want of harmony, clash of authority, between the Magistrate and the Police, &c &c"

"It has always been my good fortune to meet with Police officers who thoroughly understood their relation to the Magistrate, and such being the case, their co-operative services have ever proved most valuable to me"

"Occasionally errors of procedure, or slight transgressions of jurisdiction have been promptly checked, chiefly by yourself in Sessions cases, and instances of this nature are becoming daily more rare"

Track Law.

30. In the Lahore District there were 6 cases under the Track Law during the year, and in Ferozepur 17, in which the alleged value of the property stolen was Rs. 2,960· compensation to the extent of Rs 802 was awarded in such of these cases as were proved 9 of the Ferozepore cases remained pending at the close of the year.

The Deputy Commissioner, Goojranwalla, does not notice this subject in his report.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

Cases disposed of

3 There have been 80 less non bailable offences reported than in 1863, while notwithstanding this decrease there has been an increase of 190 in the cases brought to trial, a result which so far appears very satisfactory. The most favorable results in this respect are in Rawulpindi and Goojrat In the number of bailable offences brought to trial the increase has been very great, extraordinarily so in Goojrat, of the cause of which no explanation has been given by the Deputy Commissioner

Work of Sub Judges.

4 The Deputy Commissioner of Goojrat disposed of 52 cases under Act XV of 1862, considerably more than double the number which any other Deputy Commissioner had to dispose of

Result of trials

5 The proportion of persons acquitted to the number tried appears on the whole favorable, but least so in the Shahpoor District The increase of the acquittals in this District is confined to the bailable offences, and is attributed by the Deputy Commissioner to the neglect of the rule laid down in Section 66 of the Procedure Code, which requires the examination of the complainant in order to the issuing of a summons, especially in Lieutenant Powlett s Court

Cases pending

6 The number of cases pending at the end of the year was somewhat less than in 1863—though the total number disposed of has been much greater

Sessions trials

7 There were 49 cases committed to the Sessions, more than half of which were cases of murder The duration of the trials was less than half what it was in 1863, being 21 days against 46, but two of the committed cases, both murders, have been pending for more than 3 months, this is owing not to any delay as regards the trial, but to the evidence appearing insufficient at the trial, and to the further inquiry rendered necessary In one of these cases the delay is owing to the medical officer, who examined the body having been transferred to Peshawur, and to his having been hitherto detained by his duties there and prevented attending to my summons In the other it is owing to further investigation having been ordered This case is that of a man, who had previously been acquitted of one murder at the Sessions after committal by the Magistrate, though there was a considerable amount of evidence against him, who had been suspected of a second murder and now tried for a third, in which the evidence though considerable is not altogether free from doubt, therefore to let him loose with the prospect of his committing a fourth murder, until every effort to obtain further evidence had been exhausted, did not seem to me advisable, even though the delay in the case should involve his detention in custody longer than usual. The Police officers, the Tehseeldar, and the Assistant Commissioner have each made separate investigations, but without as yet any of them being able to get to the bottom of the case, and now the Chief of Mokhud, in whose neighbourhood the murder—that of an unfortunate trader who was murdered in the highway no doubt for his money—was committed, has held out hopes to me of being able to find some further evidence, and has accordingly received instructions from my Court direct to investigate the case

8 It is to be feared that the great majority of murder cases brought to trial or in which if brought to trial a conviction is obtained, are not those which are committed with any deliberation or attempt at concealment, and in which the example of punishment is most required, but almost entirely those, such as the murders of wives, &c, in which the accused generally either confess or commit the crime before so many witnesses, and in such an open manner that there is no difficulty about the proof An influential Chowdree remarked to me the other day, with reference to the Mahomedan law requiring 2 witnesses, that by our practice a man was not convicted without 4 witnesses but with regard to cases brought to trial, the truth is, it is rather the quality than the quantity of the evidence which is open to objection, there are generally many more witnesses than the court knows how to believe

Result of Sessions trials.

9 The Deputy Commissioner Rawulpindi attributes the great increase of murders in his District to the impunity enjoyed, by women in adultery cases. 17 of the murders he says were from jealousy and the victims were —wives, 4 husbands, 5 Lovers 6 —he says, "I am strongly of opinion that the present law is unjust any where, but it is demoralizing in every way in a District like Rawulpindi, where escape is so easy ' By escape being so easy, I imagine he means that there is great difficulty in bringing the offenders to justice in murder cases, and that there would not be so many murders, if the wives as well as their seducers could be punished for adultery It should be added, however, that many women, are virtually punished for adultery under the charges of abetting their own abduction, or of bigamy Though I have always thought there that was no sufficient reason for exempting women from the same punishment as that provided for the other sex in regard to adultery, yet such being the law, it seemed to me that the plain purpose of the legislature ought not to be disregarded by the courts, which would be the case, if the adultery or attempt at adultery, which was the basis and main ground of the offence, was punished under the disguise of some other charge It was ruled long since by your court in your predecessor's time, that the punishment of a woman for the abetment of her own enticing away was according to law, and it has more recently been ruled by you on a reference which I made, that the punishment of a Hindoo woman for Bigamy was legal, where the defence was that she had become a mahomedan, and that in consequence of her change of religion her first marriage was void According to the view, however, Mr Muir took of the law as regards Hindoos in the recent debate on the re marriage of native converts, it would appear that if a Hindoo, changed his religion, the previous marriage was thereby dissolved, and a new one might be contracted.

10 49 cases were, as I have stated committed to the Sessions, but twice as many cases were disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner under Act XV of 1862, Except so far therefore as the committed cases may be more difficult ones, the Sessions court in this Division has only one third of the work to do, that would have devolved on it, but for the operation of this Act. In some of the cases committed to the Sessions, I have not been quite satisfied with the procedure, especially in regard to the examination of the accused in murder cases, and I wrote a request to the Magistrates on the subject of recording such examinations

APPEALS.

Appeals to Magistrate.

11. The number of appeals to the Magistrate was 111, more than double the income of 1863. The average duration has been reduced from 7 to 3 days—I do not quite understand how such expedition has been obtained, if further inquiry was made in any of the cases, which I presume must have been necessary in some of them considering the large proportion of reversals, especially as those reversals are said to have been almost always occasioned by "the insufficiency of the proof."

Appeals to Sessions Judge.

12. The number of appeals preferred to the Sessions Court was 353, there has been very little difference in the number for the last 3 years, and the average number is greater that than of any other Division in the Punjab. The proportion of reversals was 12 per cent, exactly the average for the whole of the Punjab in 1863. The greatest proportion of reversals was in Rawulpindi, 18 per cent; the least in Shahpur 7 per cent.

PUNISHMENTS.

Nature of punishments.

13. In regard to the nature of punishments, whipping alone was least resorted to in the Jhelum district,—1 per cent only were whipped. This description of punishment ought perhaps to have been inflicted more frequently in this district, also in general. I should say from what I saw of cases in appeal, that fine alone might have been the sentence with advantage more frequently than it was.

Fines.

14 The result of the fine statement in regard to the proportion realized is not nearly as favorable as it was in 1863: so far as appears from the figures, the result is most favorable for Jehlum. The Deputy Commissioner Rawulpindi explains one apparently unsatisfactory result in his District, by stating that a considerable sum was remitted by the appellate courts, the result of which is not shown in the statement, but that if it were shown half as much more would be exhibited as realized than is shown. The Deputy Commissioner Shahpoor, however, admits that the proportion realized in his District is unusually low, and he believes that sufficient care was not always taken to apportion the fine to the circumstances of the prisoner.

POLICE.

15. The reports of the District officers are on the whole satisfactory, in regard to the Police having generally conformed to the law.

16. In the Shahpoor District a very much greater number of persons were required to enter into recognizance to keep the peace than in the other 3 Districts of this Division together—555 was the number, which seems immense. Captain Davies states, that it was owing to the factions into which the whole District was split up, but it appears that in 1863 it was found sufficient to bind over 73 persons to keep the peace. A large number of persons were required to give security for good behaviour in the Shahpoor and Goojrat Districts, and probably with good result, but the procedure was somewhat irregular in the Shahpoor District, and the Deputy Commissioner was requested to see that the law was more strictly observed in future. He has not however included either these or the recognizance cases among the convictions under bailable offences, as it appears to me has been erroneously done in Rawulpindi and Jehlum; if he had, his proportion of acquittals would have been much less than in any other District.

Major F. R. Pollock, Commr. and Superintendent.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES

2 The total number of offences ascertained to have been committed is 4,103, or 1,026 more than in the year 1863, of these 2,111 were Non Bailable, and 1,992 Bailable

Result of District trials

3 The result of inquiries and trials shows the number of persons tried to be 6,216, of whom 3,585 have been convicted and committed, and 2,631 acquitted or discharged

This gives the proportion of acquittals and discharges to persons tried at 42 per cent.

4. The general average duration of trials is 7 days—greatest in Dera Ishmail Khan.

SESSIONS TRIALS

Work of Sessions Judge

6 76 Persons have been tried in the Sessions Court, In 14 cases for the crimes of Murder, Dacoity, and Rioting with Culpable Homicide there was one case tried under the Punjab Penal Code

Jail Deliveries.

7 Jail deliveries have been held at Derah Ishmail Khan, Lukkee and Esaukheyl. I have found no difficulty in obtaining intelligent assessors, their assistance has been made use of in every case tried

APPEALS TO MAGISTRATE

8 Only 15 cases have been appealed to the District Magistrates, their average duration has been 15 days.

APPEALS TO SESSIONS JUDGE

9 Appeals have been made to the Sessions Judge, the orders in 84 cases or 6 per cent were confirmed The average duration was 14 days.

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES.

2. It will be at once seen that the number of Crimes reported during 1864, was larger than in 1863, but upon referring to my report for 1863, you will observe that I doubted whether the returns then submitted, represented a true account of crime which had actually occurred. I believe that my suspicions were confirmed as far as the Jhung District was concerned. I do not feel convinced that any correct inference can be drawn from the statistics of 1,863, A. D. I myself regard a fair report of crime as very creditable to the Police, it shows that they have the confidence of the public; but an increase of crime should go hand in hand with average detection and convictions. On the whole, I am not disposed to find fault with the result obtained, which shows that 3,656 persons were convicted, against 1,600 persons who were acquitted.

3. From cases which came before me in appeal, I should say that investigations are carried on with care and attention both to the Indian Penal Code, and the Procedure Code, and I therefore regard the average duration of trials as favorable. There is not an officer in this Division who does not work with zeal, care, and energy. The number of cases pending in this Division at the end of the year, is a conclusive testimony to the due application to business of the Judicial staff of this Division. I am sure that Government will commend this proof of zeal.

4. The work performed by Deputy Commissioners in their capacity of Sub-Judges has been considerable, a great relief has been afforded to the Sessions Court and the object of Government in granting these powers har been fully answered. The work of this division in the Sessions Judge's Court has been heavy, but I believe I may say successful.

APPEALS.

Result of Appeals.

5. Notwithstanding the unfavorable remark of the Deputy Commissioner of Mooltan, regarding the result of appeals, I am disposed to think that the work done is generally speaking good: from the constitution of our Courts which invest Tehseeldars and Naib Tehseeldars with criminal powers, although facility is given for the speedy decision of cases, there is a danger of officers who are less specially trained than our Extra Assistants and Covenanted officers, vested with the powers of subordinate Magistrate of the 1st class, being led into error in their decisions, therefore there is a greater necessity for a stated review of the work of officers who are not up to their work. Careful supervision and patient pointing out of defects, either originating from false conclusions from evidence given, incomplete investigation, or radical error will soon render cases of appeal less frequent; but where radical defect in judgment is detected, Criminal powers should be cancelled by a special reference.

Whipping Act.

6. The practical conclusion on Act VI of 1864 is, that it comes but little into play in a District. I believe it to be in a great measure a dead letter, for second convictions are not often brought to notice, and a whipping and release hardly satisfies the ends of justice and the claims of society, for if it be true which probably it is in the majority of offences, that the one in which an accused person is convicted forms but an inconsiderable share of the Crime which he has committed; it seems impolitic to let a criminal loose again in society with a whipping; but in times of scarcity when high prices lead to the commission of Crime, a whipping and release would well meet both the offence of the accused, and the object of punishments in general.

POLICE.

7. The Police are gradually learning their duty, but they must be content to play a subordinate part to our Magistrates; since if they aim at independence, and kick at official Magisterial control, they will estrange the people from them, and become an oppressive element in our social organisation: they must play the part of servants, not masters of the public.

* * * * *

9. In conclusion, I beg to say that the Indian Penal Code and the Procedure Code work well, they are fixing themselves into our administration, and are fairly understood by our native subordinates.

PESHAWUR DIVISION.

Lieut. Col. J. R. Beecher, Commissioner and Superintendent.

[Received 29th February 1865.]

TRIAL AND DISPOSAL OF CASES.

1. The number of offences ascertained to have been committed is 4,569, and under the heads of inquiries and trials, 3,823 cases have been disposed of—a number in excess of the total of last year.

2. In the Peshawur District, the number of persons for trial was 4,711, of whom 2,882 were convicted or committed, 1,745 acquitted or discharged, and 84 remained for trial at the end of the year. The proportion of acquittals to the number tried was 34 per cent, or 3 per cent below that of last year.

In the Hazara District, 2,142 persons were brought to trial, of whom 747 were acquitted or discharged, showing an average of 34 per cent—the same as in Peshawur.

In the Kohat District, 1,035 persons were for disposal, 586 were convicted or committed, and 439 acquitted or discharged, giving the large percentage of 42. Only one case was pending at the end of the year.

The average duration of trials has been

In Peshawur,	.. ..	5 days
In Hazara,	... ...	4 „
In Kohat,	... .	6 „

Lock-ups

3 The Lock ups are in good repair, and have not been unnecessarily crowded Bail has been taken wherever allowable

Sessions trials

5. The Sessions Statement shows that there were 9 cases, and 22 persons for trial at the end of the year 1863, and 38 cases involving 67 persons were committed for trial during the year 1864 70 persons have been disposed of, and 19 persons in 13 cases remain for trial

6. There have been only 37 appeals in the District Courts, 33 of which are of Peshawur, none were pending at the close of the year Their average duration was 24 days

7. The prescribed rules of English record have usually been observed, but I could wish that more pains were taken to render them easily legible, and to reason out the decision.

There can be no question of the advantage of a clear and careful judgment, drawn out by the Judge in his own hand writing as the basis of his sentence.

8 Five cases remained to be heard in appeal in the Sessions Court at the close of 1863, and 239 cases were preferred during the present year, making a total of 244 cases, of which 233 have been decided, and 11 are pending

54 per cent of the orders of the Lower Courts were confirmed, and 3 5 per cent returned for re investigation

The average duration of appeals was 12 days.

10 The detail of fines is shown in the following table —

District.	Fines imposed	Fines realized	Ordered in compensation	Paid in compensation
Peshawur, ...	28,717	16,504	5,122	2,119
Hazara, ...	9,371	7,228	501	472
Kohat, ...	7,736	4,314	2,950	337
TOTAL, ...	45,824	28,046	8,575	2,928

11 Thus 61 per cent has been realized out of the total sum imposed, but only 34 per cent out of the "amount which has been decreed in compensation." More pains should have been taken in Kohat to recover the compensation, or to limit it to the means of the culprit, for the Deputy Commissioner remarks that in some cases, fines alone were imposed in order to prevent feuds by a money payment, in consonance with Pathan ideas.

Working of Act VI 1864.

12 Statement No VII A, shows that the number of men punished by whipping was as follows —

In the Peshawur District,	...	167
" " Huzara "	...	48
" " Kohat "	...	31

What influence on the prevention of crime has been exercised by Act VI of 1864, cannot I think be yet pronounced

13 Under the present system, Securities are always at once forthcoming, and are of little advantage to be a real check, where the discovery of crime is surrounded with more than usual difficulty, the amount demanded should not be excessive in amount, but should be deposited in cash.

Track law.

14. The system of tracking does not exist in this Division, though I see no reason why it might not be introduced with success.

A. A. ROBERTS,

Judicial Commissioner for the Punjab.

Copy of letter No. 1103, dated Murree 2nd August 1865, from Secretary to Government, Punjab, to Judicial Commissioner, Punjab.

I am desired to communicate the following observations upon your report on the administration of Criminal Justice for the year 1864.

2. The general increase in reported crime, both in the case of bailable and non-bailable offences, * has formed the subject of remarks in connection with the report on Police administration. It will suffice here to state that, while the circumstances you have mentioned undoubtedly to some extent, account for the increase, yet they cannot in His Honor's opinion, be accepted as a full explanation of it, more especially in the case of crimes of violence and offences against property. In regard to bailable offences, His Honor notes your remark that, "no small proportion of the very large and general increase may be put down to the exemption of petitions of complaint from Stamp duty." What you state confirms his own opinion, that the exemption of petitions of complaint in petty cases from the very moderate Stamp duty levied under the old Stamp Act, was a needless measure, and one likely in time to prove injurious, by unduly facilitating the preferment of vexatious and trifling complaints.

3. The statistics relating to the disposal of cases (Appendices I & II), and their average duration (Appendix VIII), appear to be generally satisfactory. The average duration of trials is stated to have been 5 days, and of inquiries 10 days, and with the exception of the case pending in the Sirsa District since July the 4th (for which delay no satisfactory explanation is afforded), one in Amritsar since the 20th August, and another in Gurdaspur since 23rd April, (the reason for which is explained), no case more than three months old was pending at the close of the year.

4. In reference to your remarks regarding the diversity of practice in distinguishing between trials and inquiries in the returns, I am to request that you will cause the returns of the districts of Bannu, Gurgaon, Jhelam, Delhi, Dehra Ghazi Khan, and others, in which the distinction appears not to have been understood, to be properly examined and tested, with a veiw to securing greater accuracy next year; and His Honor further desires that the percentage of Amritsar for bailable and non-bailable offences be henceforth separately shewn.

5. The average duration of appeals to Magistrates appears high in the following districts:—

Hoshiarpur,	...	...	...	12	days.
Amballa,	...	...	...	13	"
Jallandar,	...	...	...	13	"
Hazara,	...	...	...	15	"
Amritsar,	...	...	...	17	"
Dehra Ismail Khan,		...	...	25	"
Kohat,	...	...	...	26	"

It is well remarked by the Officiating Commissioner of Amballa, that this class of cases should above all others be promptly disposed of, as the privilege of appeal is valueless, if reversion is not accorded until a considerable portion of the sentence has expired.

6. His Honor observes with satisfaction, that both in the case of appeals to Magistrates and in those to Session Judges, there is a decrease in the number of cases returned for investigation. * * * *

7. The high average amount of fines inflicted (Rs. 13), and the small percentage (53 per cent) recovered, deserves remark. His Honor would, like his predecessor, impress upon Magisterial Officers that fines should not be excessive; but when imposed should be promptly realized, so that imprisonment in lieu of fine may be as little resorted to as possible.

8. The Lieutenant Governor is unable entirely to concur in your remarks upon the punishment of whipping. It is doubtless desirable that this punishment, as well as others, should be awarded on as uniform principles as possible, and that it should be resorted to in cases where the law admits of it, provided that it can be done with benefit to the prisoner and with due regard to the interests of society; but he cannot subscribe to the broad maxim that, "for all offences for which whipping is authorised, it is a more appropriate, efficacious, and humane mode of punishment than imprisonment". His Honor is convinced that with all professional or confirmed offenders, whether young or old, or those convicted of organized or concerted crime, whipping is altogether inoperative as a substitute for other modes of punishment, and as regards all other classes of offenders it is a kind of punishment which requires the exercise of much discrimination to apply it with really good effect: with boys, not yet hardened by habitual crime, it is no doubt a very suitable punishment, if administered with discretion, and far better than imprisonment; but a respectable adult, who has been hurried into the commission of crime, by passion, want, or other special cause may often become hardened by a flogging. His Honor therefore cannot but express his opinion, that an indiscriminate resort to this mode of punishment will be productive of more harm than good, and he trusts that the scrutiny and supervision of the practice of the Courts in this particular, enjoined by the late Lieutenant Governor in his comments on last year's report, may be effectively carried out. In like manner, the remark contained in your 41st para that, "whenever the Code admits of fine as an alternative punishment it should be awarded," lays down a rule of too general and sweeping a character to command His Honor's unreserved assent. In these cases also much, I am to observe, much needs be left to the discretion and discrimination of the Judicial Officers.

9. The employment of bad characters, detained in default of security for good conduct in making roads and other public works, besides being of doubtful legality, has proved in practice to be open in other respects to grave objections, and has therefore, been recently disallowed.

10. As the Arms Act is essentially a Police measure, the returns would seem more appropriately to form a part of the Police report, and I am to suggest that they may henceforth be incorporated with the returns of that department. The number of licenses to carry arms is not great, and, if amongst them are included licenses granted to Native huntsmen for the destruction of wild beasts, they might in some districts be advantageously increased. A misapprehension of the Deputy Commissioner of Rawalpindi, in regard to the grant of licenses, has lately been corrected. The alleged existence of concealed cannon in the Umballa district, is a matter that should not be lost sight of.

11. The return shewing the destruction of wild beasts like those mentioned in the preceding paragraph, appear to appertain rather to the Police, than the Department of Criminal Justice. The increased destruction of animals is satisfactory, and the number of lives lost from wild beasts, though larger than last year, is considerably below the average of preceding years, as may be seen from the marginal return* of persons killed since the year 1859.

12. From the reports received, it is to be feared that female infanticide is not altogether extinct, but that the crime is still practised, though not to any great extent among some of the higher Jat tribes amongst the Rajpoots of the sub-montane districts of the Province. His Honor trusts that no exertions will be spared in securing the co-operation of the people in discountenancing this crime at once so heinous and difficult of detection. Much may be done, His Honor believes, by causing the suspected tribes to feel that they are watched, and by enlisting public opinion against the practice, at meetings such as those held in the districts of the Jallandar division. One of the causes which has lead to this unnatural repugnance to female offspring, is doubtless the extravagance of marriage expenditure, which in the case of the higher tribes, falls to a great extent, upon the father of the bride. His Honor, therefore regards, with the greatest interest the spontaneous movement of the citizens of Delhi, for the reduction of expenditure on marriages, and he believes that their example has already been productive of excellent effects elsewhere.

13. Your favourable opinion of the accurate knowledge of law and procedure evinced generally by the Magisterial and Judicial Officers of the Province, is gratifying to the Lieutenant Governor: it is doubtless, as observed by you, attributable in a great measure, to the able supervision of Mr. R. Cust, whose successful exertions in the enforcement of correct procedure, and the improvements of the administration of justice generally, deserve the marked acknowledgments of this Government.

14. His Honor is further glad to receive your testimony and that of the majority of Commissioners, and District Officers of the Province, to the increasing efficiency of the Police, their excellent discipline, and the harmonious co-operation of District Superintendents and their Assistants with the Magisterial authorities. Their number is doubtless too weak; but measures are in operation for increasing the strength of the imperial force, by transferring to local funds the cost of police employed for the service of certain Towns and Sanitaria, which have hitherto paid nothing, or only a small quota towards the expense of their protection. A conspicuous instance of the advantages of a centralized system of Police, aided by the cordial co-operation of local authorities, is to be found in the successful prosecution of Mahomed Shuffee and his 10 associates, whereby an organized scheme of treason against the State, carried on under conditions which defied detection by purely local police, was effectually exposed.

15. Your testimony to the satisfactory performance of their duties by the Jageerdars, who have been invested with Magisterial powers, and of the valuable assistance rendered by the boards of Honorary Magistrates at Lahore, Delhi and Umritsur, is also highly gratifying, and His Honor hopes with you, that as the exercise of Magisterial powers becomes better appreciated, the paid Justiciary may gradually be still further relieved from the cognizance of minor offences, and the Judicial Administration of the province strengthened by the agency of the people themselves. His Honor is also glad to perceive, in the reports of the Commissioners and District Officers, increasingly favourable testimony to the value of Assessors.

16. The tendency to severity on the part of Magistrates invested with enhanced powers of punishment under Act XV of 1862, remarked upon by you in your 41st paragraph, may, to some extent, be owing to the caution rightly given in the review of the last year's report, against undue leniency in punishments awarded under the powers conferred in this Act. These powers, in his Honor's opinion, should, as a rule be conferred only on officers possessed at once of experience and a fair amount of leisure The Lieutenant Governor is under the impression that in some Districts the Deputy Commissioner is prevented from visiting as he should, the interior of his Districts, from being thus burdened with important criminal cases. His impression is confirmed by the fact that during the past year 1,100 cases, which in Regulation Provinces would have been committed to the Sessions, were disposed of by Magistrates of Districts, while only 585 prisoners were tried by Commissioners of Divisions, in their capacity of Sessions Judges Commissioners should see that the other important duties of district Officers are not made to suffer from the undue pressure of Sub Sessions work.
